PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Hello friends,

Success is measured in numerable ways. At Northeast Community College, the annual Graduate Report is one opportunity for us to see how and where our graduates have transitioned in their lives since they left us last year. Whether it is entering the workforce or continuing on with their education, this document serves as a 'report card' to you as we share news of our graduates' successful journeys into the beginning stages of careers that each of them desire.

Faculty and staff serve as stewards to our students as they dedicate their talents and passion to ensure that graduates attain their educational goals. As we often say, 'Their success is our success.' It is a value that is reflected in the way Northeast carries out its mission of dedicating itself to the success of students and the region it serves.

I am pleased to share that the 2019 Graduate Report confirms that 99 percent of our graduates indicated that they are either working or continuing their education. The data points out that of the students who entered the workforce, 88 percent are employed in their field of study. The report goes on to say that 86 percent of our graduates who are employed are working in Nebraska - and 61 percent of those people are making a living in Northeast's 20-county service area in northeast and north central Nebraska.

The Graduate Report is an accurate reflection of our students' success from the 2018-19 academic year as we heard from all but 27 of the 909 graduates. I would like to extend my appreciation to Terri Heggemeyer, director of career services, and her assistant, Amy Koehler, for their detailed work in compiling the report. They recognize why it is so important to reach out to every Northeast graduate in order to compile the data to ensure accuracy for this report.

College graduates earn more throughout their careers than those individuals who have not earned a degree. It is the responsibility of Northeast Community College to educate our students to be productive members of the workforce of the 20-county service area for not only the benefit of themselves and their families, but for the communities in which they live and work.

Thank you for supporting Northeast Community College!

Sincerely,

Leah A. Barrett, Ed-D
President

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Career Services is pleased to publish the Northeast Community College Graduate Report. It is a pleasure to share the success story of our graduates.

The 99 percent success rate of the graduates is close to perfect. Our students are dedicated and work hard to achieve their professional goals. The caring and supportive faculty and staff encourage students to learn, explore, and grow. When students, faculty, and staff collaborate, the educational experience is one that really allows graduates to leave with a solid foundation in order to make a difference in their lives and communities.

Please review the report to see how our graduates are contributing to the workforce or gaining more knowledge through continued education. The statistics are amazing! I think you will agree that these graduates will make a difference in the communities in which they live.

Thank you for your interest in Northeast Community College.

Sincerely,
Terri Heggemeyer
Career Services Director

2018 EMPLOYER EVALUATION SURVEY

Paper and online surveys are distributed to all known employers who have hired Northeast Community College graduates. The survey consists of a skills assessment and overall satisfaction of the employers rating of the Northeast graduate and career program. This survey was conducted in 2019 for the graduates of the 2017-2018 academic year. Of the 274 surveys distributed, 121 were completed for a 44% response rate.

of employers would consider hiring Northeast graduates in the future.

of employers rated Northeast graduates as either excellent or good in their Career program.

Employers assess on conceptual and technical knowledge, quality of work, oral and written communication, interpersonal and teamwork skills, math, troubleshooting, and behavior.

GRADUATE SUCCESS

Northeast graduates take pride in completing their program of study. The graduates are excited to share with Career Services their post-graduate status. Career Services is proud this report reflects an update from 97 percent of the 2018-2019 graduating classes. The contacts are made through personal conversations, classroom visits, phone calls, emails, mailings, texts, and social media within six months of graduation.

“Career Services works diligently in making connections with the graduates because we truly care about their future,” says Terri Heggemeyer, director of career services. “Knowing that graduates are reaching their goals ensures that the college is fulfilling its mission.”

GETTING THE MOST OUT OF NORTHEAST

High school is a time for students to prepare for adulthood, consider a career choice, and formulate a plan for the future. For Zaine Gallagher, his dream was to become a doctor. In fact, the 2017 Norfolk Senior High School graduate classified himself as “pre-med” when he enrolled for classes at Northeast Community College the following fall.

As part of his studies, he participated in a job shadow opportunity. It was at that point Gallagher realized, “I didn’t want to be a doctor anymore. I decided that when they had me job shadow a dietician.” Since he had more of an interest in fitness and nutrition, the job observation led Gallagher straight into an area that appealed to him.

Gallagher considered several colleges as he began his educational journey, two of which were four-year institutions in Nebraska. At the same time, he had heard many good qualities about Northeast Community College, but admits he wanted to leave Norfolk for a larger college experience in a bigger city like his peers. In the end, he decided to enroll at Northeast.

“I took a tour at Northeast and loved the campus,” Gallagher said. “It would be a nice transition from high school to college, so, all-in-all, it made sense for me to go to Northeast first.”

Gallagher is a first-generation college student (the first in his family to attend college). His parents continually promoted the importance of academics throughout his time in high school, as well as encourage him to obtain a higher education. Unfortunately, he would need to earn a scholarship to cover his college expenses.

“I worked hard, and my parents knew I was capable and had the intelligence to get an academic scholarship,” Gallagher explained. Even though his parents could not provide him with financial assistance, they believed in their son’s resourcefulness and determination.

Gallagher applied for and earned Northeast Board of Governors’ Scholarship, which included a full-tuition ride.

In addition to his classes, Gallagher was involved in on-campus activities, tutoring, and supplemental instruction—all of which were key to his success at Northeast. He describes the campus as a “tight-knit community” with many opportunities for student involvement. His time at Northeast allowed him to make new friends in his classes and meet other people through his club activities as well.

Gallagher also credits the Northeast faculty for the connections they provide students, and his decision to join Phi Beta Lambda (PBL), which impacted him and his education. PBL places an emphasis on helping students transition to the business world. There are approximately 11,000 PBL members on college campuses across the country.

“Even as a non-business major who would like to own his own business someday,” Gallagher added, “I thought PBL would be a good fit for me.”

PBL opened numerous prospects for Gallagher and his classmates, including participating and placing at state and national competitions. Another was the club’s work with nities in the Norfolk area, not to mention connections with important people within the community.”

Although a career in medicine was initially his goal in life, Gallagher acknowledges he had changed his major twice while at Northeast. Thanks to his advisor, Liz Gubbels, Gallagher created a new plan so he could move forward with his education.

After the initial job shadow with a dietician, Gallagher discussed his concerns with Gubbels, who developed a new plan that would allow him to graduate on time with a degree in pre-professional dietetics.

“I am thankful for Liz,” Gallagher their two years. It provides tuition for the remaining two years of students’ undergrad journey at UNL.

Gallagher shared, “In my essay, I talked about what I learned from Northeast, and how the college made me the person I am and the person I was going to be when I transferred to Lincoln. They apparently enjoyed my personal statement and GPA!”

He was elated to receive his financial aid package, which indicated his tuition would be paid for the remainder of his time at UNL as he seeks his undergrad degree in nutrition and dietetics.

Once he graduates with a bachelor’s degree, Gallagher intends to apply for graduate school to obtain a Master of Science degree in Exercise Physiology and Nutrition. He would also like to attain his registered dietician certificate, which requires a one-year internship—something he can complete during his bachelor’s degree.

Gallagher cannot say enough about how Northeast Community College prepared him for where he is today. Looking back to when he was a high school student, he shared how difficult it can be to transition from high school to some huge university with intimidating course loads.

“Transitioning to Northeast means you will get that one-on-one time and also have the chance to be involved on campus,” explained Gallagher. “Along with my course work and tutoring opportunities, my time at Northeast Community College provided me with so many skills that will not only help me complete my education, but also achieve my academic and professional goals.”

the Norfolk Area Chamber of Commerce Cadets program, whose goal is to encourage student involvement within their community.

The Cadets joined the Chamber Ambassadors for various events each month, from ribbon cuttings to coffee calls, opportunities to network with current business professionals, and to help promote new businesses and develop relationships with the community.

Gallagher said, “We were able to share ideas and support everything they were doing. It was a great activity for me to get involved with. It gave me a lot of different opportu-ties. “I wasn’t sure if I was going to be able to graduate on time, but she created a schedule that would be sustainable throughout my two years without having to take additional credits.”

Furthermore, Gubbels and Matt Hampl, academic support coordinator at Northeast, advised Gallagher to apply for a Transfer Regents Scholarship to the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. The scholarship is awarded to students who begin their career at a Nebraska community college, and is based on their grade point average (GPA) and their outside class involvement during

– Leah A. Barrett, President

REGIONAL IMPACT

Northeast Community College not only contributes to the workforce through its skilled graduates and training programs, its regional economic impact is substantial to the northeast region of Nebraska. In a study conducted by Economic Modeling Specialists Intl. in 2018, it was found that Northeast contributed $236.3 million to the regional economy through its graduates each year. This figure represents the higher earnings that students earned during the year, the increased output of the businesses that employed the students, and the multiplier effects that occurred as students and their employees spent money at other businesses. This added income is equivalent to supporting 4,053 jobs.

Northeast not only contributes to the workforce through its skilled graduates and training programs, its regional economic impact is substantial to the northeast region of Nebraska.

Northeast offers one of only three two-year utility line degree programs in the United States.
